Field of the Invention The invention relates generally to surgical procedures and, more particularly, to a self-retaining retractor for a surgical incision. 2. Description of the Related Art In order to perform various surgical procedures on the human body, it is necessary to make an incision in the human tissue. In order to protect tissue surrounding the incision while the surgeon is manipulating tissue in the area of the incision, a retractor is typically used. Some conventional retractors, however, can be used in only one position relative to a surgical incision, thereby limiting the range of surgical procedures in which the retractor may be used.Q: TeamCity fails tests in Jenkins I'm working on some JBehave tests for a project that I'm writing to use in Jenkins. The tests themselves run just fine, but I get failures when TeamCity runs the test suite on the build. The build runs fine on my delta-Proteobacterial origin of arsenic resistance locus ARG1 The dars operon, a component of the arsenic resistance locus ARG1, consists of nine genes, including dmsA, dmsB, dmsC, dmsD, dmsE, dmsF, dmsG, dmsH, and dmsI, with the products of the dmsA, dmsB, dmsC, and dmsI genes forming an ABC transporter that could be homologous to the Acr1p protein found in bacteria other than Gram-positive cocci. Overall, 21 proteins were identified in the dars operon, including six proteins also found in bacteria other than Gram-positive cocci and nine proteins unique to actinobacteria. Thus, the dars operon may have originated in a common ancestor of actinobacteria before the divergence of actinobacteria and streptomycetes.Q: How to detect when a UIControl's text field is empty? I have a UIControl (a UITextField) called text_input. I would like a method to get called when the user types something into the text field and when the field is empty. I started by adding this method to the view controller that contains the text field. -(void) updateTextField { // this gets called when the user types something into the text field

NSLog(@"test"); } -(BOOL)textField:(UITextField *)textField shouldChangeCharactersInRange:(NSRange)range replacementString:(NSString *)string { if(textField == self.text_input) { // this gets called when the user tabs off the field and the field is empty NSLog(@"test"); } // this gets called when there is new text in the field return YES; }
And then I added this to the code of the UIView that contains the UITextField: - (void)viewDidLoad { [super viewDidLoad]; UITapGestureRecognizer *tapRecognizer =
[[UITapGest

Preparation: This guide is aimed at folks who want to try out playing Doom on Linux without having to install a dedicated Doom engine like the previous guides. I've tested this on Ubuntu 18.04.1 LTS (Bionic Beaver) and macOS Catalina 10.15.1 and both have worked flawlessly. The next few sections are used in the video above so they aren't in the guide. Installation: Install the dependencies sudo apt-get install libsdl2-dev lib
