Masks in this theme will be festooned with feathers, bells, and glitter to evoke the great Carnival parades in Rio de Janeiro and Venice. Each mask has a different accessory that you can swap out, but stay true to the original. The costume can be for a PC or NPC, but if you're wearing a PC dress, be sure to activate the Body Paint option. If you activate Body Paint, you'll be able to choose between 3 different body paints, each with its own unique metallic color. Body Paint feature is optional. The message you see in the command line in the creation window is shown in italics. Each costume comes with a default skin that is pictured in the image and is recommended if you're new to Skin Designer. If you choose not to use the default skin, you can add any new skin, or create one from scratch, in the My Skins folder. Use the costume. You can apply this costume to any NPC or PC that you wish. If you use this costume for a PC, use the Body Paint option. You may also need to activate the Ask-the-GM permission on the command line.
