Knuckle Pine Turbo Boxing DI

a year ago i started training in boxing. i am now in a program that makes me work with a trainer three days a week. i train at least twice a week. i train in a gym in the basement of my apartment. i feel like i am getting a lot better. i have been working on my head movement and timing. i also have been working on my footwork and my defense. i am also working on my strength. i also feel that i have a good chance of beating the guys that i am fighting. i have been fighting for about a year and am now in a lot of fights. i have fought 12 fights now. i have a record of 6-6. but, my record isnt the best part. the best part is that i am getting better and better and i believe that i will get even better. i would like to get to the pro level. i would like to make it to the pro level of boxing. i think i can get there. its a long process and a lot of hard work. but, i think i can do it. i believe that i have a good chance of making it. but, i would have to give up wrestling to do it. its a hard choice, but i think i would make the right decision. i could probably use my wrestling skills for wrestling promotions. it wouldnt be easy for me to do, but i think i could handle it. i think i could be a wrestling coach. i know a lot of wrestlers that could use some help. i know i need to give up wrestling before i make it to the pro level. i would be on a separate team in the professional level. i would have to give up a lot of things. wrestling is a part of my life. i am not sure if i would be able to give it up. i have been wrestling for 14 years. but, i think that i could give it up for boxing. if i were to give it up, i would have to give up wrestling for wrestling promotions. i would also have to give up wrestling for wrestling for wrestling shows. i would have to give up wrestling for fighting. i think i could do it. i would have to give up wrestling in order to do it. but, i could do it.

Knuckle Pine Turbo Boxing DI

Boxing (1985): A shoutout to Sega and their "Adventures of Sonic the Hedgehog" series is seen in the scene where Sonic the Hedgehog and his friends are training at the boxing academy. A pack shot of two fighters is heard yelling the term "KO!" (short for "knockout").

Sonic the Hedgehog (1991): One frame of a vintage Sega logo and the year "1991" can be seen. This is taken from the game Sonic the Hedgehog 2. (In the Japanese version, Sonic the Hedgehog 2 has a title screen instead of the cover art used here.)

pictured in a pose similar to the one seen in the original version of the "Sonic" logo. The "Sonic" phrase is formed from two letters of Sonic the Hedgehog 3's title and subtitle. Sonic the Hedgehog 3: Battle (1995): A tag team match called "Hurricane Kick!" is shown, with the logos of the two combatants displayed below the match. The logos, taken from the box art of the game Sonic the Hedgehog & Knuckles, is a copy of the "Knuckles" title from the cover of Sonic the Hedgehog 3. "Hurricane Kick!" is a play on words, since it was also the name of a fighting game from Sega, which is also a play on words from the first Sonic game, called "Skate & Roll".

"Hurricane Kick!" is also the slogan of the EigaChiri (Japanese slang for video games) magazine. Sonic & Knuckles (1997): A logo stating, "Sonic & Knuckles Special Edition", is seen. This was the title of the Sega Genesis version of the game. Sonic Adventure (2001): A small logo indicating "Sonic Adventure Special", and the little hand symbol of the Sonic the Hedgehog games is used. This is the Japanese version of the game, which originally had a different title. In the English version, the title is "Sonic Adventure" instead. Sonic the Hedgehog (2006): The original box art is seen in a small box, with the words "Sonic's Next Adventure", indicating the English title of the game. 5ec8ef588b
