I feel proud of TTEC and I feel that we have achieved a lot of things over the past four years, but I still feel that we have to make more steps, we have to make more car, we have to make more money, and we have to get the better service. And that's what we are looking forward to. So I think we are going to have a very strong third year. And I am sure we are going to be strong in 2020 because of the wonderful people in TTEC. It's a marvelous place. In late December, TTEC discovered that sensitive personal information belonging to TTECs clients was accessed by unauthorized persons. TTEC investigated this matter and determined that no sensitive personal information belonging to TTECs clients was revealed or disclosed. We have not been able to determine if any details of TTECs business operations were accessed or downloaded by any unauthorized person. TTEC does not believe that any personal information belonging to TTECs clients was disclosed by any unauthorized person. The breach exposed names, email addresses and other sensitive personal information of over 88,000 current and former TTECs customers, including health plan beneficiaries. The company believes this information was taken from two TTEC-maintained databases and the other databases which store TTECs customer data. TTEC has a robust Information Technology (IT) security program that was not followed in this matter. In addition, TTECs data-handling practices are not always consistent and should have detected the breach. TTEC began to notify its clients on January 11, and notified government agencies on January 14. As of now, the nature and scale of the incident and the potential impact to clients is still under review.
